Clarity for Your Current Season: The Five Clarifying Questions

An interactive workshop guiding participants to discern their season, see it through God's truth, and prayerfully identify what God is calling them to do in this season. Perfect as a breakout session paired with a keynote.

Krista Pettiford is an author and minister known for her Scripture-rooted teaching on spiritual seasons, divine timing, and navigating life's changes and transitions. She equips women to recognize their season, trust God's timing, and move forward with faith, clarity, and courage.

She believes truth and transparency transform lives. With a biblically grounded approach, she weaves scripture with personal testimony to teach how God works through both expected and unexpected seasons of life, bringing spiritual understanding to times of transition and uncertainty. Her messages integrate biblical insight and practical faith application, offering hope and direction anchored in God's word for women navigating life's seasons.

Krista is also the creator of the Seasons Journal and Seasons Quiz—resources designed to help individuals discern their seasons and capture the beauty, blessings, purpose, and lessons within each season.
