SIGNATURE MESSAGES

Krista Pettiford is an author, preacher, and Bible teacher who helps women understand God's times and seasons and how He unfolds His purposes, plans, and promises over time so they can recognize what God is doing, trust His timing, and walk confidently with Him through every season of life.

With nearly two decades of ministry leadership, a degree in Biblical Studies, and devotional content that has reached thousands through YouVersion, YouTube, speaking events, and online resources, Krista has spent years encouraging women through biblical teaching, discipleship, and prayer.

Having walked with God through many unexpected seasons herself, she brings warmth, biblical wisdom, and hope to women learning to trust Him through every chapter of their story.

Krista is the author of Brave Change: Navigating Unexpected Seasons in Midlife with Faith, Courage, and Grace (InterVarsity Press, January 2027). She is also the creator of the Seasons Quiz, which helps women identify the season they are currently in, and the Seasons Journal, a guided resource designed to help women steward each season with faith and intentionality.

In Due Season: Understanding God's Times and Seasons and Trusting Him Between the Promise and the Fulfillment | God's plans, purposes, and promises unfold over time—season by season. In this encouraging message, Krista helps women understand God's times and seasons so they can recognize what God is doing, trust His timing, and remain steadfast as they wait for His promises to be fulfilled. Women will learn to recognize that waiting seasons are not wasted seasons and that every season has an assignment in God's greater plan.

Brave Change: Finding Hope and Moving Forward When Life Doesn't Go as Planned | When life takes an unexpected turn, women often wonder what comes next. Through the story of Naomi, Krista guides women through four stages of navigating unexpected change with faith, grace, and courage, reminding them that God is present and faithfully working even when life doesn't unfold as expected. Women will learn to find hope in God's faithfulness and embrace change with courage and grace.

Called for More: Becoming Who God Created You to Be—Season by Season | Your calling is more than the work you do. In this inspiring message, Krista encourages women to find their identity and confidence in Christ and to walk faithfully with God as He unfolds His plans, purposes, and promises season by season, reminding them that no season is wasted in His greater plan. Women will learn that calling unfolds over time and that God uses every season to shape who they are becoming and accomplish His purposes through their lives.
